

Write up about the app

This two month of learning ruby on rails was really something to me. This is the first time im learning something on my own., trying out on all sorts of online learning guides, running into countless number of errors everywhere were frustrating but yet so fulfilling after its over. I like learning css and html the most, designing website is really fun. Definitely look forward to work with the cvwo team.

User Manual:

A user is able to sign up for an account to have his/her own set of todo items. Basic account management like updating profile and delete profile supported. Search bar at the top is able to search according to deadline and content of the task.

Tags are clickable and will direct to show tasks of the same tag.

Set up all good for heroku deployment halfway of my project and successfully deployed. However, on the last day ran into errors that I could not fix in time.
